Brief Report

Creativity the soul of human existence. With an aim to improve the creative skills of our students, Sanskriti, the Literary Club of Nirmala Arts & Science College conducted a monostich poetry contest on 16th June 2021. The details of the competition were circulated among the students three days before (13th June 2021). The theme chosen was Survival which is the most relevant topic in the pandemic period. Students from various departments participated in the contest sending their one line poems to the given mail id of the club. Each entry deserved appreciation. The contestants tried their best to communicate maximum about the topic in the fewest possible number of words. The poems were the product of brilliant imagination that aroused in the minds of our blooming buds. Surya Suresh from the department of commerce emerged as the winner.

Brief Report

The Sanskriti, the Literary Club of Nirmala Arts & Science College organised a book review of Sarah Joseph's short story "Hagar : A Story of a Woman and Water". The activity was conducted on 8th April 2022 at 10.30 AM. The venue chosen was 1st year B.Sc Psychology classroom. The session started with the introduction of the author which was followed by a detailed book review given by Chinmay P.B of I B.A English and Kuriakose Joseph of I B.Sc. Psychology. Sarah Joseph's short story "Hagar: A Story of a Woman and Water" is a captivating and thought-provoking read. The story follows Hagar, a young woman living in a desert community who is forced to confront the limitations placed on her gender and the harsh realities of her environment. Through vivid descriptions and powerful imagery, Joseph transports the reader into Hagar's world and explores themes of identity, resilience, and the struggle for survival.
